

Dear Scholars,

We miss you all so much! You guys should be so proud of yourselves. You're doing such a wonderful job working from home and getting your work done. Continue to work hard and grow your brains while you get ready for second grade! It will be here before you know it. This week you will be continuing to work on happy numbers and epic everyday. You will also be writing both informational and opinion paragraphs throughout the week. We love reading your writing and hearing what you have to say! The more details you put in the better. Remember to reread your work and make sure it is high quality. You might ask yourself "Did I use the right punctuation?" or "Do I have an uppercase letter in the beginning of my sentence?". Checking your work is very important, so when your reader reads the paragraph they know what you are trying to say. This week you will also be doing really fun activities in expedition. We can't wait to see your work!

Love,

Your Teachers
